

Syringe Shielding

Sliding Syringe Shielding

For handling of and protection against radioactive content in syringes.

User-friendly model composed of two parts. The parts can be easily slid apart with a light grip, and the syringe placed inside. The model is held together by powerful magnets, and the syringe can be turned through 360 degrees inside when the shield is assembled. Ideal for needles with safety caps or 3-way valves.

The scale of the syringe is fully visible through the leadglass window.
